

Journalism

internships are a big deal at TREND HUNTER Magazine.

Rather than fetching coffee or making copies, our interns are the heart and soul of our publication. As a key part of our young, dynamic team, interns build 1000+ article portfolios and build skills that set them up for success in the wonderful world of publishing.

Our Toronto journalism internships (and San Diego journalism internships) will have you writing about exciting topics like the cutting edge of fashion, technology, advertising, the environment and design. Interns get firsthand experience running one of the planet's most popular online publications and exposure to our 10 million views per month. After 6-8 weeks of learning the ropes, our interns get to drive exciting projects, which have included: TV scriptwriting, celebrity interviews, publicity stunt design, PR launch strategies, and Trend Report research.

Each semester, we offer 3-5 Toronto internships and 1-2 San Diego internships.

Duties

Our interns learn a curriculum that covers writing, editing, online publishing, PR, online marketing, SEO, social media, and trend research. These skills are heavily sought after by employers who are desperately trying to understand the online media space. Over the course of a semester, our goal is for each intern to have a rockin' time while building a portfolio of 1,000+ published articles in fashion, design, pop culture, technology and advertising.

After 1-2 months of learning the ropes, our interns get to drive exciting projects, which have included: TV Scriptwriting, Celebrity Interviews, Publicity Stunt Design, PR Launch Strategies, and Trend Report Research.
